

STOP! READ THIS FIRST!
MISHANDLED BATTERIES MAY OVERHEAT AND CAUSE INJURY.

All Magic-Flight Launch Box batteries are "stripped", meaning their protective jacket has been removed. These batteries can short if they come in contact with metal. They are ONLY intended for use with your Launch Box.

The batteries in this kit require special handling.

DO NOT ALLOW YOUR BATTERIES TO OVERHEAT. This can be caused by sustained use or by the battery making contact with any metal, including the tin or another battery. Overheating, even once, will drastically shorten a battery's life and may cause injury due to burns.

ALWAYS store batteries with the black caps on the positive ends.

If a battery is too hot to touch comfortably, let it cool THOROUGHLY before using or handling.

Magic-Flight will gladly replace batteries found to be faulty within THREE MONTHS of purchase.
For more information about batteries and battery safety, refer to your Launch Box Flight Guide.
