

SAIN SATION

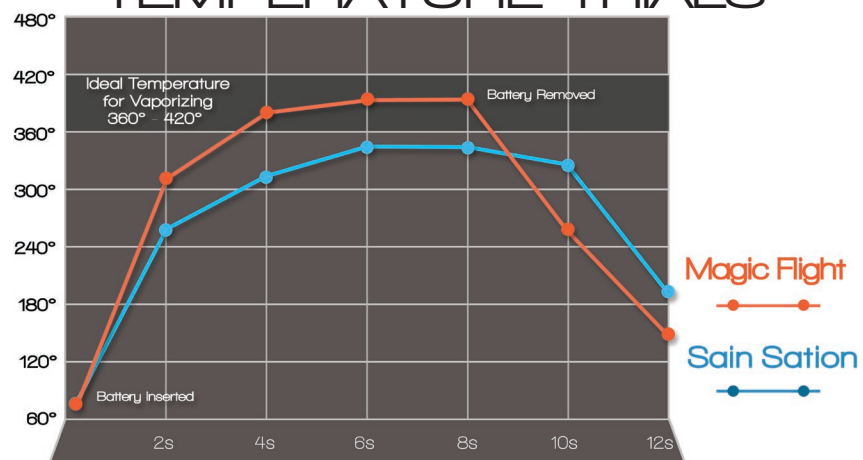

Sain Sation is manufactured in China, with two different versions of counterfeit Launch Boxes on the market. One version is branded as "Sain Sation" with their own name/logo on the front and back of the vaporizer. Another version is more misleading and directly copies our tin lid design, logo, and aphorism on the back. It's marketed as a legitimate "Magic-Flight Launch Box." This PDF discusses the version distinctly branded as "Sain Sation."

- 1 Bulging screen and incomplete bonds lead to inconsistent heat output.
- 2 Poor construction with low quality control.
- 3 Counterfeit easily identified with name and logo on back of unit.
- 4 Ill-fitting lid.

- Spotty Screen Bonds: Screen isn't properly adhered to metal rails, an oversight which prevents the Sain Sation from reaching an optimal vaporization temperature.
- Misshapen, Crooked Screen: Oversized screen is misaligned in the unit, causing bulges in the trench. These factors lead to unstable heating of herbs.
- Lost Vapor: Vapor easily escapes the unit due to a loose lid. A raised click-lock prevents the lid from sitting flush.
- Safety: Sawdust and wood fragments are found loose throughout the unit. These can easily be inhaled during use.
- Toxicity/Made in China: Based on the smell, quality, texture, and unknown manufacturing procedures, we warn against inhaling vapor from this product.
